EMERGENCY FIRST AID TRAINING

First Aid Training at your premises

Up to 12 Persons

ONE DAY COURSE

Why should employees receive Emergency First Aid Training?

The Health and Safety (First-Aid) Regulations 1981 require employers to provide adequate and appropriate equipment, facilities and personnel to ensure their employees receive immediate attention if they are injured or taken ill at work. What is 'adequate and appropriate' will depend on the circumstances in the workplace. This includes whether trained first-aiders are needed, what should be included in a first-aid box and if a first-aid room is required.

Surefire can provide you with First Aid Training at your premises, to cover a range of topics so that your employees feel confident when dealing with medical emergencies which will help them both in the workplace and at home. On completion a HSE Approved Certificate will be issued.
