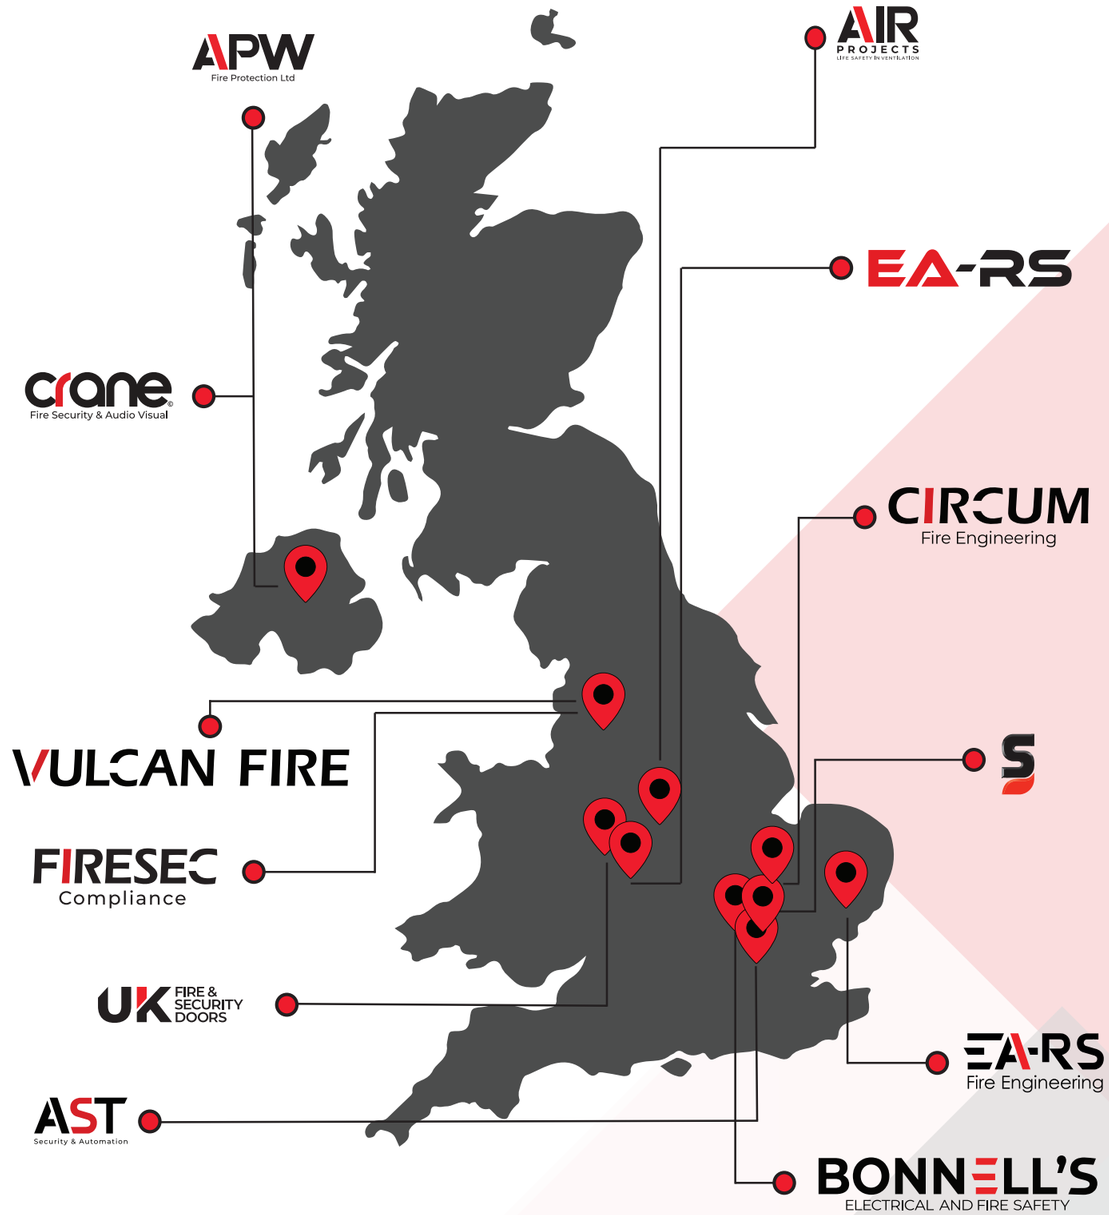
OUR BRANDS

National fire and security solutions delivered regionally.

EA-RS consists of a nationwide network of specialist companies providing fire, security and electrical solutions, upheld to the highest standards to guarantee the protection of lives and assets.



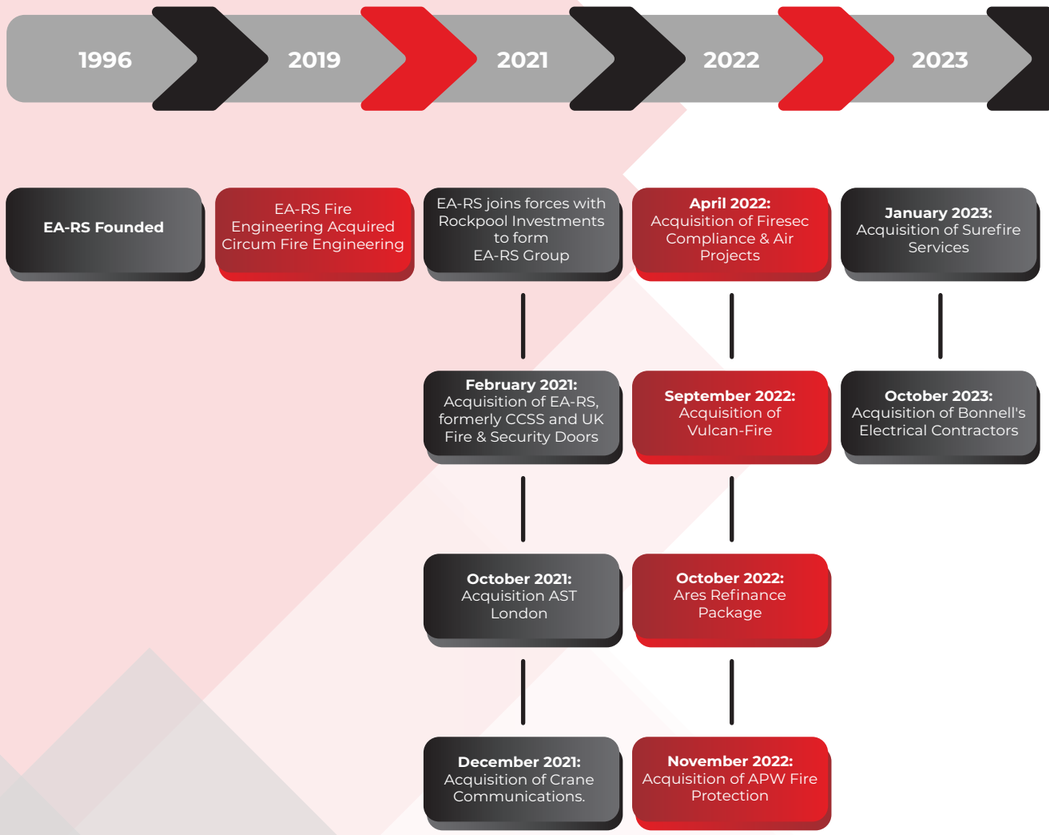
OUR HERITAGE

Founded in 1996, EA-RS has grown into a leading provider of intelligent, sustainable, and fully compliant fire, security and electrical solutions.

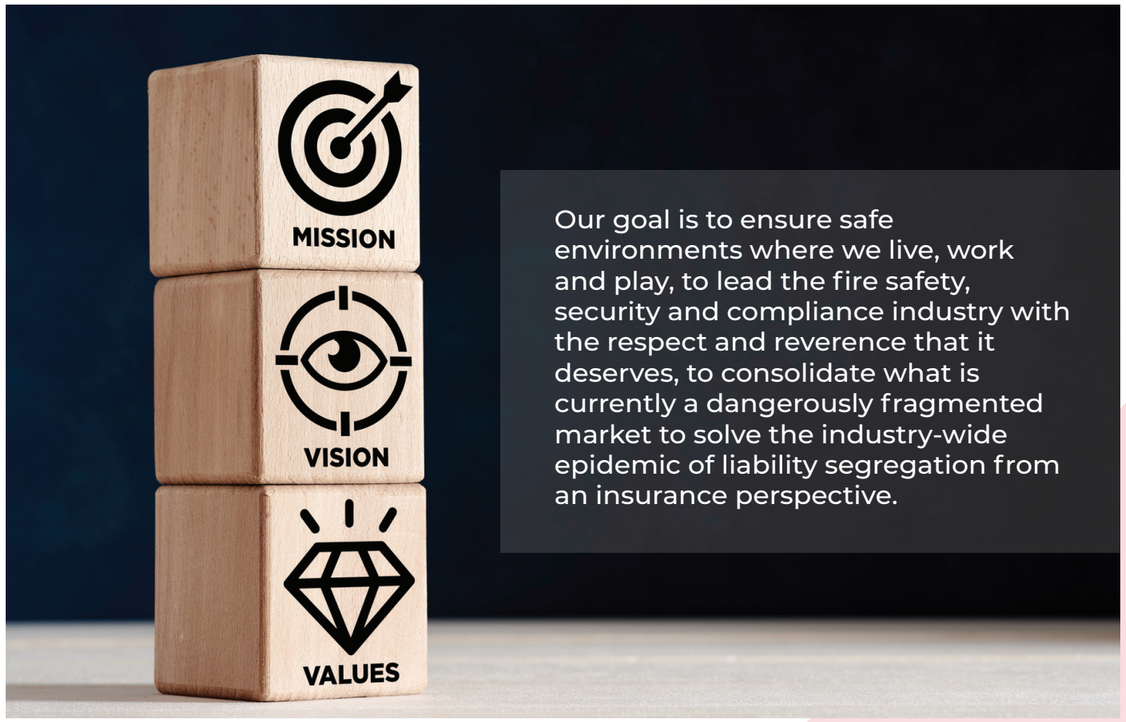
Through strategic acquisitions, we have expanded both our expertise and geographical reach, strengthening our ability to serve clients across the UK and Ireland.

EA-RS is made up of specialist Fire, Life Safety, Electrical and Security companies, delivering a comprehensive One Solution Offering.

This integrated approach ensures seamless project execution and ongoing support, giving our clients a single, trusted, partner for all their fire and security needs.



MISSION STATEMENT



Our goal is to ensure safe environments where we live, work and play, to lead the fire safety, security and compliance industry with the respect and reverence that it deserves, to consolidate what is currently a dangerously fragmented market to solve the industry-wide epidemic of liability segregation from an insurance perspective.

> At EA-RS we set ourselves the target of delivering a market-leading fire and security service-focused offering. Consolidating and integrating a fragmented market through our acquisitions into one robust foundation business with excellence at the forefront of everything we do.
> We have a clear focus on always maintaining compliance and safety standards through a culture of accountability, empathy and team-work that results in providing high quality life and property safety systems to meet our client budgets and expectations.

Mark Wheeler, CEO, EA-RS Group.

CORE VALUES

At EA-RS, our core values shape our internal culture and guide our external actions. Our social values, an extension of these principles, are embraced daily by all staff across our business units.

Developed collaboratively, our vision and strategy emphasise teamwork across geographical and functional borders to deliver service excellence. Our core values define our expectations, drive decision-making and inspire how we work with each other and our clients.

TESTIMONIALS

For nearly 30 years, we have safeguarded businesses across the country with our comprehensive fire safety and security solutions. Our commitment to excellence is reflected in the consistently positive feedback from our valued customers.

"We found the entire process of the fire alarm install a breeze from start to finish. The engineers on-site were thorough with their work and it was evident that they knew their stuff with not only the old system, but also the one they were installing. We were kept up to date for each step of the install so we knew what area they were working in and what we needed to do on-site to support with the install. The guys were also very friendly, polite and prompt – arrived early and made sure to leave things tidy before they left."

Retirement Living Manager, Midland Heart

"We have had the pleasure of building a very strong EA-RS support team over 23 years. From being at our first Datacentre at Edgware as BACS to now, delivering critical engineering support Services across our three main Data Centre properties across the UK, the EA-RS team have worked tirelessly to support us. EA-RS has been our longest standing Contractor and a trusted partner on our highly sensitive and secure sites."

Director, Network Operations, Mastercard

"We have carried out the critical ventilation verifications at the above trust for the past 5 years. Below is the feedback that has been provided by the client:
"They have more expertise from a technical point of view. They provide excellent support, which is more in relation to HTM (Health Technical Memorandum) compliance, e.g. making sure the actual facility it sits within is compliant. The other companies we've used before don't have the same expertise."

NHS Bradford Teaching Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust

Estates Manager, Bradford Teaching Hospitals

"We are incredibly pleased with the exceptional service provided in enhancing the fire safety of our halls of residence. Their expertise and professional approach have significantly improved the fire resilience of our buildings, ensuring the safety and well-being of our students, faculty, and staff "

sodexo QUALITY OF LIFE SERVICES

Small Works Manager, Sodexo

"The EICR Contracts Manager of EA-RS and his team went above and beyond for us. They made what was not an easy job seem effortless, coming up with brilliant solutions, meeting our needs, and the needs of our students. We will be forever grateful for the love and passion they put into our centre making it a special place for everyone involved. Not only did EA-RS supply everything that was needed at no cost, they worked with true professionalism. I would not hesitate to fully endorse EARS to anybody. A huge thank you from all of the Stratford team!"
